2018 Boys Basketball Player of the Year

Issac McBride, a 6-1 senior guard for Baptist Prep, is the All-Arkansas Preps Boys Player of the Year. He averaged 28.9 points a game and hit 115 three-pointers this season for the Eagles (30-4). The Kansas Jayhawks signee broke his own single-season school record for scoring with 983 points. He scored a career-high 58 points against Russellville on Dec. 29, which was also a school record.
